DAILY REPUBLICAN.

W. R. ABBOTT & CO., Proprietors, 143 East Main Street, Decatur, Ill.

MONDAY EVE. MAY 29, 1893.

There are people who oppose the opening of the World's Fair on Sunday, who have failed to do a great many good things they should have done and who have done things they should not have done.

This question before the court in relation to the Sunday opening of the fair is whether the act of Congress which appropriated money in aid of the fair and declared that the appropriation was made in consideration that the fair be kept closed on Sunday, amounts to a law. If the courts decide that it has the force of law then all month the bill should be closed.

LOUISVILLE Courier-Journal: Among the Democratic senators and representatives, scattered between Dan and Boonville, he who travels a mile an hour is apt to find a way barren of everything except cross-purposes and shallow notions, varied here and there by the coward's plea that we must be exceeding careful lest we tread on somebody's toes.

Representative Cannon and several other Democrats started out with the determination that they would not vote with their party in favor of the infamous gerrymander bill, but they were all whipped into line like spaniels. People ought to be better than no Democrats with independence of character enough to refuse to obey the dictates of the party leaders, no matter how bad and infamous the orders may be. There is none of that material in the party. A Democrat obeys the order of the bosses, a man who will not do that never becomes a Democrat.

DECATUR PERSON THIEVES. Now that Decatur is a Democratic district the Review promises that our city will get a government building at the earliest possible moment or just as soon as the conditions of Uncle Sam's treasury, depleted by the raids of the pension lotteries, will permit it. And we call upon our new congressman, Hon. William M. Springer, chairman of the ways and means committee, to devote the ways and means to make our promise good.---Decatur Review.

The Review promises that as soon as the treasury recovers from the raids of the pension lotteries Decatur will have a new government building, now that it is a Democratic district. This means that the Democratic propose to cut off pension enough to build a public building in Decatur and the question arises whose pension is to be cut off for that purpose? Decatur has as many pensioners proportionately as any other city in the Union, and the public wants of other cities are as great as those in Decatur. This means that when we get down to saving money by cutting off the pensions of the lotteries that we must find the lotteries at home and not look for them as they once looked for the "milk sickness," just beyond the Review's horizon. Has gone into the business of making war on the pension lotteries it is fair to ask them who they are. They know who the pensioners in Decatur and its neighborhood are. If it knows that any of them are looking the lottery it names them. Remember, this is business and we don't want names of pensioners in New York or Philadelphia, or Chicago or Peoria or Quincy, but those at Decatur. Let the Review name the men it would cut off that Decatur may have a public building. Would it cut off the Democratic soldier who is a pensioner and is a subscriber to the Review and pays his subscription out of the small pittance he gets as a pension? Is it in favor of cutting off the pension of the man who pays the Democratic doctor who attends him and his family and pays his bills out of his pension stipend? Does it favor cutting off the pension of the man who buys his goods and dry goods and clothing and meat of the Democratic merchant who has them for sale, and pays for his purchases out of his pension? If the Review is in favor of this, are these doctors and merchants in favor of it? Would they prefer to look at the old brick in a Decatur government building to the trade of these poor soldiers who in the prime of life, went to the front with the assurance that their services would be appreciated, and who did not for one moment suspect that the time would come that public sentiment would become so blinded in the appreciation of their services that a paper in Decatur would be allowed to call the soldiers in its own community, a set of pension thieves, or that the people would ever put in power a party whose first attack would be on the pensioners who made it possible to have a government.

Now, it so happens that when the dependent pension bill was before congress in 1890, this same Congressman Springer made a speech in opposition to the bill in which he stated that the bill was not what the soldiers wanted, and was not what was due them; that they wanted a service pension, a pension that would serve every soldier, and that his party favored such a pension. But now that the Democrats are in power, that paper calls on Springer to stop the pension cheating in Decatur, a public building in Decatur. In doing so it assumes that when Congressman Springer was advocating a service pension he was simply playing the hypocrite. If it does not think he was setting the part of a demagogue, how can it now ask him to stop pensions for the purpose of saving money, when, less than three years ago, when he had no power to accomplish it, he was advocating the pensioning of every man who went into the army, no matter whether he was disabled or not? But, by all means, let the Review name the pensioners in Decatur whose pensions should be stopped because they are loafers and thieves.

Danger of Foreign Military Companies. Philadelphia Telegraph: A Pittsburgh lodge has had a streak of good luck in refusing the charter from a military company which called the "Russian Guards," composed entirely of men new to this country. The point was taken that organizations of foreign-born citizens, outside the regular military force of the state, may become mischievous, if not a public peril. The fact is, however, there is a large number of anti-military organizations in this commonwealth, under sort of state patronage or control. This is an object which has been too long ignored. The drilling of men and boys in the manual of arms and military evolutions is taking place at this very time in this and other cities to an extent that would alarm the public if all the facts were known. Judge Ewing did well in heading off the "Russian Guards" officially, yet undoubtedly the organization will be kept up under cover, like many others which exist today. This is a matter which will attract wide public attention and comment.

Readily Making Hard Roads. John H. Republic: Governor Algood is violating his promise about the hard roads. He promised to make some hard roads in the state, and he is doing it to the best of his ability. For instance, in the first place, he and his legislative friends are making roads in every portion of the state that will prove so terribly hard for the Illinois Democracy to travel that they will not reach another victory for the next dozen years, and in the second place he is making a road from Springfield to the United States Senate which will prove too hard for him to travel with any prospect of ever reaching the seat. As a hard road maker, in giving out, our ambitious governor is proving quite a success.

A DISTURBANCE isn't what you want, if your stomach and bowels are irregular. That's about all you get, though, with the ordinary pill. It may relieve you for the moment, but you're usually in a worse state afterwards. This is just where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do most good. They act in an easy and natural way, very different from the huge, old-fashioned pills, which are only pleasant to the tongue, and have no reaction afterward, and their help lasts. One little sugar-coated Pellet for a gentle laxative or corrective--three for a cathartic. Constipation, indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Dizziness, Sick and Bilious Headaches, are promptly relieved and cured.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take--and the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

You pay only for the good you get. It won't do to experiment with Catarrh. There's the constant danger of driving it to the lungs. You can have a perfect and permanent cure with Dr. Sage's Remedy.

An occasional bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla does more to correct the tendency of the blood to accumulate humors, and keep the organs sound and healthy, than any other treatment we know of. "Prevention is better than cure." Try it this month.
The picnic of the Goodman and Forepaugh bands at Turner Park Sunday afternoon was a jolly affair. Plenty of the music. Bob Muzzy, Mont Pauliwall and Bob Stephens saw with the circus band.
AZHROON is not claimed that Ayer's Sarsaparilla cures every ill to which flesh is heir, yet, as a matter of fact, it comes nearer doing this than any other medicine ever compounded. In purifying the blood, it removes the source of nearly all disorders of the human system.

Mayor's Proclamation.

Whereas, May 30, has been set apart for the purpose of decorating the graves of the soldiers of our country, it becomes the duty of all patriotic citizens to commemorate the day of the cause for which those men fought to turn aside from the ordinary pursuits of life and observe the day in a manner in harmony with its full significance. Now, therefore, I, D. O. Moffitt, mayor of the City of Deatur, respectfully request that all the business houses of the city close at one o'clock Tuesday afternoon, May 30, and remain closed until the memorial exercises at the Opera House and the Cemetery are concluded.

D. O. MOFFITT, Mayor.

Attest: L. F. SHERLEY, City Clerk.

The Turners.

The Deatur Turnverein, including scholars, will meet at their hall at 2 o'clock to-morrow to take part in the memorial parade.
HENRY MEYER, President.
The services at the First M. E. church were well attended both morning and evening. In the morning Rev. T. A. Parker preached from the text "I have fought a good fight, and in showing up the Christian character of St. Paul made some beautiful allusions by way of illustration to those who dedicated their country to the field of battle. This was drawn out by the fact that it was Memorial Sunday.
In the evening Rev. Parker preached on the miracle of "Stilling the Tempest on Galilee." Before the sermon the congregation united with the pastor in a scripture reading. Several persons were received into the church during the day. The women were up with the high standard for which the congregation is noted.

Circuit Court Monday.

Court will convene next Monday, June 5, with a grand jury and a petit jury for the trial of jail criminal cases. No other cases will be tried—except in bail criminal cases if the defendant comes into open court and demands a trial he can have it. There will be definite taken to common law cases, but no trials. Chancery docket will be called over on some day set hereafter, but no contested cases on that docket will be disposed of, except by agreement of both parties. This term is thus shortened, in order to allow farmers, who principally compose our jury, to take advantage of the season and get up with their work.

The Class of '93.

The graduating class of the High School will have a class day June 9th. In the evening at the High School exercises will be held for which invitations have been issued. The class essay will be given by Miss Clara E. Mitchell, the class oration by Samuel E. Magee, the class prophecy by Misses Emma Clark and Aldyth Irwin, the class poem by Miss Jennie Lyons, the class history by Marion Rhyne, and the class song by the class. The class will be accompanied by Miss Jennie Smith will be the accompanist. Instructional music will be given by members of the other classes.

CHOLERA DEATH.

(Special to the REPUBLICAN.)
CHICAGO, May 29.—A cablegram announces that at Hamburg, Germany, on May 27th, a man died of a well-defined case of Asiatic cholera.
One case of death from cholera in France is reported.

INJUNCTION GRANTED.

(SPECIAL TO THE REPUBLICAN.)
CHICAGO, May 29.—In court to-day a temporary injunction was granted in the World's Fair Sunday opening case.

Our Soldiers.

The following, with the above title, was written by Midge Fenton, a pupil in Miss Macpherson's room in the Wood Street school and will be delivered by her at the Memorial exercises of the school Tuesday morning:
O soldiers, join us in the battle hymn:
With ringing voices and stirring limb.
Honor to those who fought to save!
Honor to those who were noble and brave!
The hearts of old soldiers never are weeping.
With ringing voices and stirring limb.
Honor to those who fought to save!
Honor to those who were noble and brave!
Do you think the flag which is here and there waves this day is floating in the air?
If every man had not discharged his duty—
If not him alone his life in solemn duty—
So take of your hearts and wave them in the air.
In honor of those who have gone beyond the trumpet's blast.
And if you are called to go,
Don't hesitate, boys, to meet the foe.
But shoulder your guns and march away.
Marching step to the music of the trumpet's play.
And, boys, be brave and noble, too.
An honor to those who fought for you.

The Crowd.

Never in the history of Deatur has there been as large a crowd in the city to-day. The incoming trains were crowded to the platforms and as the crowds came a standstill in the yards the people piled out of the cars and broke for the street cars and hacks, many breaking on a run for the business portion of the city. Conductor Greene, of the Elkhorn branch of the Western, came in with 3 cars loaded, 6 of which were extra cars. The streets were jammed—all business men wanting to do any business, were compelled to take to the streets.

Robbed of Her Pocketbook.
Mrs. Elsworth, who boards at Robner's Hotel, is missing her pocketbook, which contained $42 in money and some valuable papers. She had been on the street viewing the parade and was returning through the crowded streets to her hotel when some one grabbed her pocketbook and contents and disappeared in the crowd. The police have the case.

MRS. H. B. DILL ASSAULTED.

Attacked by a Colored Man at Her Home South of the City.
H. B. Dill, the well-known farmer residing two and one-half miles south of the city, was in the city to-day in a fever of excitement. His wife was back of the house this morning mending the fence, and while doing so a big, dark colored man slipped up on her and grabbing her right arm jerked the hatchet from her, and threatened to kill her if she cried out. He then choked her and after knocking her down outraged her. The observatory was related to Officer Leach this morning. As soon as Mrs. Dill got to the house and notified her husband of what had happened. He immediately came to the city and notified the police, who are doing their utmost to locate the villain. The negro is described as being a medium sized man, wearing a black slouch hat, a well-worn suit of dark clothing with a sack coat. His hat was drawn down over his eyes, but he wore a monocle. He was seen a short time before talking to several women, and the police are also looking for the woman in order to get a better description of her man. Mrs. Dill is a lady about 35 years of age and her husband is a farmer.

A PATETIC SUICIDE.

A Son of Milburn, the Eloquent Blind Preacher, Cuts His Throat at Chicago.

F. H. Milburn, 30 years of age, and the son of W. H. Milburn, the famous blind chaplain of the House of Representatives at Washington, committed suicide Sunday in Chicago by cutting his throat with a razor.

A letter found in his room is thought to explain the cause of the suicide. It was dated at Jacksonville, Ill., May 26, 1893. In it the blind preacher pathetically tells his son that he cannot send him any money, as it is required, to use his own words: "All my pitiful income to support my family which are with me at Jacksonville." The letter goes on to say that the Jacksonville home is full, and there is no accommodation for "Fleet," as his father called him. It closes with the hope that his son will get work in Chicago and succeed.

Milburn committed suicide in the most deliberate manner. He made a gash across his throat almost severing his jugular and then leaned over a wash basin into which he bled the blood to flow. His body was found on the bed.

Information of the suicide was sent to the chief of police at Jacksonville in order that the news might be broken as gently as possible to his venerable father.

Bruce Oatto Entertains.

Saturday afternoon, at the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Oatto, their son, Bruce, celebrated his sixth birthday in a very pleasant manner. He entertained a company of friends from 2 until 6 o'clock with games and dancing. At 6 o'clock a sumptuous supper was served in the dining room. The refreshment table was prettily decorated with flowers. The little host received many nice birthday gifts from his friends. Mrs. M. M. Goodwin, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. H. W. Bartholomew, Mrs. H. Paga and Miss Winch assisted Mrs. Oatto in chaperoning the young people. The guests were Laura Kinsman, Grace Stephens, Edna Strader, Dot Ciokey, Jeanette Powers, Emma Ewing, June Ewing, Albert Barnes, Kath Roberts, Lucille Bullard, Florence Jones, Lotta Young, Saronella Young, Helen Bishop, Helen Sammers, Edna Saur, Lucille Carter, Lucy Penhalligan, Gertrude Mills, Florence Page, Fay Bartholomew, Elsie Bartholomew, Chas. Chas, Anna Long, the Mills twins, Anna Allison, Thos. Webb, Louis and Montgomery. The boys were Montgomery Goodwin, Jr., Kenneth Wood, Emory Wood, Claire Hatchie, Teddy Hitchcock, Baby Betting, Ralph Roney, Huston Lundgren, Fred Kline, Sam Lowery, Ray Irwin, Loran Thayer, Tom Hopkins, Ralph H. H. Dale Blah, Richard Dillehall, Willie Penhalligan, Nelson Bartholomew, Ben Stutzenberger, George Childs, Grover Baker, Ralph Carter, Ross Thomas, Merrill Whitmer and Fay and Jay Montgomery.

Mining Stock at 10 Cents a Share.

Remember that Mr. Nagely, secretary of the Edra mine, will take his departure on the first of next month. Only three more days.
Those desiring to purchase stock will do well to call on to-morrow. Such, as the stock is pretty near all taken and you all well know that if you don't get in now, while the shares are being sold at 10 cents, that you will ever after, waste say: "I had an opportunity and let it slip through my fingers." You don't want to look on this proposition as you would a little ticket, for an investment in a mine better than any bank stock. There are less failures in mine than in bank or other any time business. Remember that his time is limited. Call at REPUTABLE OFFICE.
